75-NINTH YEAR

Filed To Be Province At Midnight

Special Ceremonies Across Country On Tomorrow

OTTAWA, March 31.—(CP)—Canada's legislative machinery is slated to swing into action tonight when Newfoundland officially becomes a 10th Canadian province.

The union, twice before unsuccessfully tried, will become official at 11:59 p.m. EST (one minute before 9 p.m. Edmonton time) in accordance with terms signed here by representatives of the two countries last December.

The terms state that union will become effective "just before the expiration of March 31, Parliament has already ratified the terms and has passed other legislation making Canadian laws applicable in Newfoundland as they are in the other provinces. No hitch is foreseen.

In the Commons yesterday, Finance Minister Abbott tabled special supplementary estimates of more than $50,000,000 to cover the government's expenditure on the island in the first year of union.

No special ceremony is planned for tonight, but tomorrow there will be union celebrations throughout the country. On the mainland, there will be special ceremonies with participants including Governor General, Viscountess Alexander, Prime Minister St. Laurent and Newfoundland's first cabinet minister.

There is general expectation that the minister, to be sworn in before the ceremony, will be P. Gordon Bradley, attorney-general in the last Liberal government in Newfoundland and a strong supporter of confederation.

Newfoundland will be entitled to seven members in the Commons and six in the Senate.

Sick Child's Tests May Last Week More

Barbara Abbott, staff reporter of The Bulletin, who first brought the and case of Maude O'Driscoll to the attention of Edmonton citizens, accompanied the sick girl by car to the Mayo Brothers Clinic at Rochester, Minn. Miss Abbott will report regularly on the progress of the case.

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 31.—Sad-faced little Maude O'Driscoll may be a victim of acute nervous tension. Or she may, as Canadian doctors think, be suffering from a tumor of the brain.

But whatever the nature of the mysterious illness afflicting the little girl, the fact is that 20 American specialists who have examined her, has established a cure.

EYESIGHT PERFECT
Although Maude, her parents and teachers have noticed a definite deterioration in the eyesight of the golden-haired youngster since she was first smitten with blindness last December, today she is as bright as the sun.

A consultation on the results of various examinations originally slated for yesterday was not held, because the pale-faced child, who has eaten practically nothing for over 24 hours, was dispatched to her mother's home in New York.

NEW EXAM TODAY
Today she will be examined by at least one more prominent neurologist. He will either diagnose her case or recommend that Maude undergo another series of clinical examinations.

A spokesman for the Mayo said that the girl's condition is so serious that it may be another week before Maude's illness is finally diagnosed.

Great Britain

The British Commonwealth of Nations is an old but very real thing. The British family can still make a most constructive contribution to the peace of the world. That's the verdict of dapper Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the British Conservative party, who has just returned from a nine-week tour of Commonwealth nations.

THOMAS CHURCH ... Stormy petrel.

Soviet Russia

Soviet Russia can claim another "success." The Lenin-rap Zoological Institute has reported discovery of a whopper, fully-fledged mammoth with 300-pound tusks in the eternally-frozen Yakutian Republic. An Arctic hunter made the find, second of its kind within a month. The Yakutian coast is regarded as one of the coldest places on earth.

The Arts

Britain has lowered the barriers slightly against imported American movie films. The Commons has approved a bill to reduce the quota of British films movie theatres must use from 45 to 40 per cent. The British movie industry has been complaining that American producers charge them more than they are worth.

People

Five top Hollywood movie producers have stopped. They are in the Academy Award Oscar pool. They do this to remove suspicion of commercial influence. The action followed charges by Actor Jean Harlow that financial support was being given to the industry to make commercial pictures unhampered by considerations of artistic excellence. Producers will continue moral support of the Academy Awards.

Premier Campbell of Manitoba has challenged Manitobans to a political race. The challenge follows an invitation for Manitoba to participate in a Manitoba canoe drive in conjunction with the Manitoba Centennial Celebration next July.

The Press

Toronto's tempestuous Tommy Church is at it again. He has picked up the press this time. Church, who sits as Progressive Conservative member in the Commons for Toronto-Broadview, says people "back in the constituencies cannot get the full truth from some of the newspapers. The papers and the radio give the people only as much of the truth as they want them to know," said Church.

Alberta Counsel Replies to CPR

Figures Presented To Give Railroad Surplus

OTTAWA, March 31.—(CP)—Alberta counsel J. J. Frawley argued today before the Board of Transport Commissioners that the Canadian Pacific Railway should have a 1949 surplus of about $18,000,000 on rail operations without a freight-rate increase.

PROVINCIAL FIGURES

Using figures presented by provincial witnesses earlier in the hearings, Mr. Frawley reached his conclusion by allocating some of the railway's fixed charges and dividends against non-rail income and also knocking down some of the CPR's claimed operating expense figures.

ALLOWANCES HIT

Another reduction of $5,500,000 was claimed by Mr. Frawley through cutting down what he termed an "excessive" allowance for depreciation reserves.

On the ratio of the respective net investment in CPR rail and non-rail assets, Mr. Frawley further claimed that a sum could be taken from the rail surplus to make the rail surplus $18,000,000.

'HAMS' YET!! Nothing Backward About These Natives

Has the Department of Transport heard about this one? There's at least a handful of radio "hams" among Eskimos at Fort Ross. The natives have learned to use the same of the "walkie-talkie" radios left behind by RCAF aircraft flying from the hungry native tribes in the North.

Dr. J. P. Harvey, Indian Affairs director who returned yesterday after a month in the area said that the "amateur" radio operators were using the same of the over-the-way radios in Eskimo dialect.

ABANDONED was this RCAF Dakota aircraft, which crash-landed on Somerset Island during a food-supply mission to hungry Eskimos earlier this week. The big ship, piloted by Flt-Lt. Thomas Benson, collapsed its unique ski-wheel landing gear while landing on the Arctic ice.

1,000 Bush Workers Jobless at Lakehead

PORT ARTHUR, March 31.—(CP)—A lumber union official said yesterday there were "more than 1,000 jobless bush workers" in Port Arthur at the present time.

This statement by Jack Quinn, president of Local 776 of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union, came as acting Mayor W. Russell Brown assured a delegation of unemployed bush workers that the city would attempt to place them in shanty work.

"All are not broke but many are in need of food and temporary shelter," Mr. Quinn said.

The delegation to the acting mayor was chosen Tuesday at a mass meeting of the jobless in the labor temple here.

BACK UP MAYOR
Mr. Brown told them the city would look up Mayor F. O. Robinson, M.L.A., in his efforts to have the men put to work on salvaging wood intended by business. Mayor Robinson already has made representations to the Ontario minister of lands and forests.

Reports earlier in the week said almost 200 unemployed had flocked to Port Arthur from bush camps during last week-end.

Members of the city council agreed Tuesday night that the city should follow the example of Vancouver earlier this year by warning off unemployed transients to stay away from the lakehead city.

Sask. MLAs
Get Pay Boost
REGINA, March 31.—(CP)—The Saskatchewan legislature yesterday passed an amendment to the Legislative Assembly Act increasing members' seasonal indemnity from $2,000 to $3,000.

The amendment—which was given first, second and third reading in short order at the close of yesterday's session—was opposed by a lone government member, Jacob Benoit (CCF, Last Mountain), but all opposition members voted in favor.

The increase means that cabinet ministers now will receive $3,000 instead of $2,000. Premier Douglas, who introduced the bill, said ministers in Saskatchewan were the lowest paid in the dominion with the exception of those in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

He said there were two dangers threatening underpaid legislators. One was that only "mediocre quality" members would be attracted and the other was that politics might become a "hobby for the financially independent."

TORONTO, March 31.—(CP)—Sunday night after the 1943 Royal Grenadiers marched out of Toronto to quell Louis Riel's rebellion in Saskatchewan in 1885, only 13 members of the regiment survive—six of them in Toronto.

At their annual gathering in Toronto yesterday the six revealed that the North-West Campaign was short, sharp and successful. They left Toronto on March 30, 1885, reached the west by rail and on foot, forced the surrender of the rebel leader Great Bear and were back in Toronto on July 25.

The six are W. J. Conwell, 83, S. H. Ipe, 82, John McNary, 83, Thomas Allen, 83, Alfred Burbridge, 83 and M. R. Roberts, 82.

New Basic Herd Policy Explained

Covers Establishment By Farmers For Tax Purposes

OTTAWA, March 31.—(CP)—Revenue Minister McCann has announced a new policy covering the establishment by farmers of basic herds for income tax purposes.

These herds may be cattle, horses, sheep or swine. Dr. McCann told the Commons that if both registered and grade animals are maintained a separate basic herd must be established for both, provided that where the number of animals in either class does not exceed 10 per cent of the total basic herd it will be necessary to establish a basic herd for each case.

FEEDERS DON'T COUNT
Approval of a basic herd may be applied for to be effective as of Jan. 1, 1947, for a taxpayer who has engaged in livestock operation begun after Jan. 1, 1947.

The number of animals in the basic herd cannot at any time exceed the number of animals on hand. Animals purchased for feeder operations cannot be included.

The number of animals in the basic herd may be increased in any subsequent taxation year by the addition of mature animals acquired either by gift, inheritance or purchase, provided so long as the number of animals determined as the fair market value of such animals is added to the income of the taxation year in which they gain maturity.

CAPITAL DISPOSITION
Where the total herd is reduced either by sale or any other cause to a point where the total number—expressed in terms of mature animals—is less than the number of animals determined as the basic herd the difference between the number on hand and the basic herd itself will be deemed to be a capital disposition and not subject to income tax.

The average price of all animals sold in the year in which the basic herd is reduced will be used in determining the amount of capital realization.

H. E. Denton, Oilman Dies

CALGARY, March 31.—(CP)—Herschel Eugene Denton, prominent oilman in western Canada for 31 years, died in the hospital yesterday following a brief illness. He was 41.

Mr. Denton was managing director of General Petroleum Limited, president of Denton-Spencer Company, Ltd., and president of Superior Oil Limited.

He also played an active part in numerous other syndicates for the exploration of oil and gas in western Canada.

Born in Mineral Wells, Texas, Mr. Denton started work in the California oilfields in 1916. He moved to Canada in 1928 to accept a position with Anglo-Canadian Oil Co. as production superintendent. In 1941, he joined with Cody R. Spencer to form the consulting firm of Denton and Spencer which in 1945 was incorporated into the firm of Denton-Spencer Company Ltd.

Official Warns

REGINA, March 31.—(CP)—A warning against placing too much credence in claims made by stock-promotion literature was given yesterday by J. A. Young, registrar of the department of security frauds prevention.

He warned against "accepting at face value telegrams, letters or literature which are making a large number of residents of Saskatchewan urging them to make an investment in oil, gold and particularly any shares of companies which are claimed to have control of uranium discoveries in Saskatchewan and elsewhere."

"None of the companies or brokers who have sent these proposals is registered in the province," Mr. Young said.

New Operation Developed To Cure Some Backaches

WASHINGTON, March 31—(AP)—Watch out for those "intervertebral disks"—and that doesn't mean disks of the flying-saucer variety.

Intervertebral disks are rings of soft tissue that act as shock absorbers between the vertebrae—the segments of your backbone. If one of these disks is ruptured, pressure on the nerve roots of the spinal cord results. "Ruptured disks" are one of the common causes of "low-back pain" and sciatica.

NEW OPERATIVE TECHNIQUE
Up to about 16 years ago, these disks had not been definitely incriminated as a potential cause of such painful conditions.

Dr. William Jason Mixer of Boston is one of the pioneers who put the surgical finger on them and developed an operative technique which now is bringing relief to thousands of people each year.

At a recent meeting of the American College of Surgeons, Mixer gave a demonstration description of these disks and what happens when they get out of kilter.

"The intervertebral disk," he said, "is a ring of hard cartilage which contains a centre of softer material. If the ring is broken, material from the ring itself and from the

Farm Crops May Make Newsprint

Chemical Co. Executive Says Grass, Straw Product Best

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 31—(BUP)—A chemical company executive proposed last night to make a better newsprint from straw and grass than can now be made from wood pulp.

R. R. Timlow, technical director of the Kinsley Chemical Co., Cleveland, O., outlined his plan before about 500 industrial and agricultural leaders at the 18th annual National Farm Chemical Conference.

"Newsprint made from agricultural residue has very definite advantages over its counterpart made from wood," he said, "because it has better color, slower formation and better strength."

All of these qualities, Timlow added, "are to be had at no increase in cost over an inferior product."

Timlow's led the chemical group concerned with applying scientific research to find new and wider uses for farm crops and surpluses, that previous attempts with animal residues have been disappointing.

Nova Scotia Plans To Drain Marshes

HALIFAX, March 31—(CP)—The Nova Scotia legislature yesterday gave first reading to a bill setting out terms of the federal-provincial program for rehabilitation and reclamation of some 40,000 acres of marshlands along the Bay of Fundy.

MANNEQUIN? NOPE, THIEF!

LICHFIELD, Staffordshire, England, March 31—(Reuters)—A local constable heard a crash at about 11:30 p.m. the other morning and found that the window of a tailor's shop had been smashed. Standing rigid among a number of clothing items in the window was 26-year-old Joseph Patrick Doran. But he wasn't rigid enough. He was sent to prison for 12 months for breaking into the shop.

Russ Boycott Yugoslavia

BEGRAD, March 31—(BUP)—Russia and its communist allies have quietly withdrawn their ambassadors and ministers from Yugoslavia in a diplomatic boycott of their Communist former ally.

The boycott came in light today when a poll of the Soviet, Bulgarian, Rumanian, Czech and Polish embassies and the Hungarian and Albanian legations disclosed that all but of ministers left Yugoslavia from three weeks in three months ago.

All the countries participated last year in the expulsion of Yugoslavia from the communist and the denunciation of Marshal Tito's government as Trotskyist.

Other developments in Yugoslavia's worsening relations with its Communist neighbors included these:

A hostile editorial attack in Belgrade, the Yugoslav Communist party newspaper, on what it called Russia's attempt to utilize capitalist methods to make its allies economically dependent on the Soviet Union.

A Yugoslav announcement of the suspension of a 1948 agreement with Bulgaria because of "repeated, brutal attacks" by Bulgaria against Yugoslav military units.

California occupies more than one-half the Pacific coastline of the United States.

Food Shortage Alleged Aboard RCN Vessel

VANCOUVER, March 31—(CP)—The Vancouver Sun published extracts from a letter yesterday which it said it had received from a member of the crew of the Canadian destroyer Crevent, now in Chinese waters, claiming that food shortages were responsible for a recent incident aboard ship.

The newspaper did not say whether the letter, sent from Nan-King, was signed nor when it was mailed. Its writer claimed:

"We are running very low on provisions. We have no sugar as we left on board. All we get is bologna just enough to eat to keep us going. I've lost eight pounds in the last five days."

When the Crevent was in Hong Kong March 15, a number of ratings refused to obey an order as a means of protesting directly to the ship's captain their grievances about certain conditions aboard ship.

The incident, said by the navy to have been not serious and quickly settled, followed a similar demonstration by a small group of men aboard the destroyer Ashabaskan in a Mexican port Feb. 26.

A letter to the Sun a few days later was the first publicity given to that incident.

Another demonstration of some nature occurred aboard the aircraft carrier Mississippi in Caribbean waters March 21. Defence Minister Cline has said that an investigation of the incidents will be made.

In Ottawa, Naval Headquarters said last night the allegation that there was a shortage of food aboard the destroyer Crevent was "ridiculous" that it did not require comment.
